

TABLE OF CONTENTS

---

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS	IX
-----------------------	----

INTRODUCTION

Vasco Torres	XI
---------------------	----

CHAPTER 1

“Social security: how to get to 2050 with a healthy system”. The need to improve structural problems

P. Arellano Ortiz	1
--------------------------	---

1. Presentation of the comment, p. 1 – 2. Social Security Context in Latin America and the Caribbean, p. 3 – 3. The strategies of the ILO: social protection floors and the transition to formality, p. 4 – 4. The question asked: Social security: how to get to 2050 with a healthy system?, p. 4 – 5. Structural problems that must be overcome, p. 5 – 5.1. Correction of inequality, p. 5 – 5.2. The structure of the labour market, p. 7 – 6. Final thoughts, p. 9 – References, p. 10

CHAPTER 2

Evolution and Transformation of Sources of Labour Law in the Americas

James J. Brudney	13
-------------------------	----

1. Introduction, p. 13 – 2. Domestic Labour Laws Since 1990, p. 16 – 3. Domestic Labour Practices Since 1990, p. 42 – 4. Labour law sources in a larger international law setting, p. 51 – 5. Conclusion, p. 56

CHAPTER 3

“From informal to formal in Bolivia: the perspective from social security to the juridical formality of labour”

Ivan Campero Villalba

57

1. Introduction, p. 57 – 2. Framework of analysis, p. 59 – 3. The perspectives of labour market stratification, p. 62 – 4. Inequality and quality of employment, p. 65 – 5. The stratification of employment in the labour market of Bolivia, p. 66 – 6. A way of conclusion, p. 68 – References, p. 70

CHAPTER 4

Recent labour market reforms and trends in labour legislation in selected countries

Giuseppe Casale

71

1. Introduction, p. 71 – 2. The EU strategies, p. 74 – 3. The reforms of labour law in Europe, p. 75 – 4. Main tendencies, p. 77 – 5. Conclusions, p. 86

CHAPTER 5

Individual citizenship expressions and its impact in the work world

Yone Frediani

93

1. Citizenship and its partitions, p. 94 – 2. Discrimination and its legal framework, p. 94 – 2.1. The many ways of discrimination, p. 95 – 2.2. Behavioural overruns in festive activities at work: consequences and responsible, p. 96 – 2.3. Cleaning and dressing policies: tattoo at skin, lipstick, hats or similar, “non-Western” dresses, p. 96 – 2.4. The domestic violence and its impact at work: victim or aggressor as workers ... what to do?, p. 96 – 2.5. Work employment based in gender stereotypes: lawfulness or unlawfulness, where is the limit?, p. 97 – 2.6. Discrimination by ethnicity, p. 98 – 2.7. Discrimination by gender, p. 98 – 2.8. Discrimination by sexual orientation, p. 99 – 2.9. Discrimination by religious choice, p. 98 – 2.10. Discrimination arising from civil status, p. 99 – 2.11. Discrimination in the face of physical disability, p. 99 – 2.12. Discrimination by age, p. 99 – 2.13. Discrimination due to diseases, p. 99 – 2.14. Discrimination arising from regional origin, p. 99 – 2.15. Discrimination in the face of credit restrictions, p. 100 – 3. Conclusions, p. 100

CHAPTER 6

Overview of Informal Employment in Latin America and the Caribbean: Outline of Labour Formalization Proposals

Héctor Omar García

101

1. Introduction, p. 101 – 2. Definition of Informal Employment, p. 103 – 3. Quantitative Assessment of Informal Employment, p. 106 – 4. Transition towards Formality in the Region: Formalization Experiences in Ten Countries, p. 106 – 5. Actions Required to Formalize Informal Employment, p. 107 – 5.1. Improved Productivity, p. 108 – 5.2. Proper Regulation, p. 109 – 5.3. Incentives, p. 110 – 5.4. Oversight, p. 111 – 6. The Role of ILO, p. 111 – 7. The Role of Governments, Employers and Trade Unions, p. 114 – 8. Quantitative Assessment Conclusions, p. 115 – 9. Promotion of Decent Work in Global Supply Chains, p. 116 – 10. The importance of Labour Inspection, p. 117 – 11. Informal Workers' Protection, p. 119

CHAPTER 7

The use of control technologies and their impact on work and workers

Joaquín García Murcia

121

1. Approach, p. 121 – 2. Implementation and risks posed by new technologies, p. 124 – 3. The regulatory response, p. 125 – 4. The Role of the Courts, p. 127 – 5. A small sample of case studies, p. 129

CHAPTER 8

Unionism and transformation in business organizations

Nelson Mannrich

133

1. Introduction, p. 133 – 2. New Players, p. 135 – 3. Trade Unions' reactions and strategies, p. 136 – 4. Business Organizations' Responses to New Challenges, p. 140 – 5. Conclusions, p. 144

CHAPTER 9

The 1988 Declaration and the promotion of freedom of association in Brazil

Ana Virginia Moreira Gomes

147

1. ILO technical cooperation projects with Brazil on freedom of association, p. 148 – 2. Peculiarities of compliance with the freedom of association, p. 156 – 3. The promotion of freedom of association: proposals from the Brazilian case, p. 163 – 4. Conclusion, p. 167

CHAPTER 10

Current Chilean labour procedural system

Emilio Morgado Valenzuela

169

1. Introduction and selected statistics, p. 169 – 2. Explaining reasons for good results achieved, p. 172 – 3. Major challenges, p. 181

CHAPTER 11

Labour law and sustainable development

Tiziano Treu

183

1. Labour law and development: a complex relationship, p. 183 – 2. Sustainable and human development, p. 187 – 3. The future of protective legislation: more selective and essential, p. 189 – 4. Regulated and skills-friendly flexibility, p. 192 – 5. Employment support in transitional markets, p. 194 – 6. Innovations in welfare policies: costs and investments, p. 196 – 7. Insurance based schemes and fiscal support, p. 198 – 8. Education and the accumulation of human capital, p. 200 – 9. Social cohesion and collective actions, p. 201 – 10. The role of national States in a globalized world, p. 204 – 11. The instruments of transnational labour regulations: commercial and investment treaties, p. 206 – 12. Multinational enterprises and company agreements, p. 207 – 13. Regional regulations and regional Funds, p. 208 – 14. Some policy priorities, p. 209